Cost of Handling Street Wheat Cut By Line Elevators

Refunding Half Cent Bushel On Delivered Wheat

In face of the emergency situation brought about through the quota on deliveries of farmers' wheat at country elevators, all line elevators have issued instructions to their agents to increase the price for all grades of Board street wheat by one half of one cent per bushel effective immediately, according to a statement issued today by A. C. Reid, president of the North-West Line Elevators Association.

In addition to increasing the price by one-half cent per bushel to all farmers who have delivered Board street wheat to line elevators since August 1st.

This decision was made in an effort to meet the emergency situation brought about by the shortage of storage space and the consequent quota system.

In spite of the fact that the carload quantity was reduced to 750 bushels, some producers were unable on account of the quota to deliver that amount and secure track price. It is to compensate such cases that the street list price is advanced half a cent per bushel.

The Nazi move into Rumania shows that the Axis partners have seen the handwriting on the wall, and in order to feed and supply their war machine additional loot had to come from some source, and they took the easy route via Rumania. They will make further demands on the Balkan countries, hoping they meet their demands without a fight, giving them the opportunity to clean them out of their essentials of life, so that they may continue the struggle.

Italy, too, will put pressure on other Balkan states with the hope that the small nations will come through with all their raw material to replenish the Axis' fast disappearing stocks.

WARN MOTORISTS CARBON GAS DANGER

With the advent of colder weather, warnings of accident hazards are being sounded by officials at branches of the Alberta Motor Association.

One of the most deadly dangers to be avoided at this time is the poisonous carbon monoxide. Year after year, this dread menace takes a toll of lives in Alberta and other provinces.

Motorists are warned to use every care to avoid monoxide which spreads a trail of death in its wake. When starting up the car in the garage in the morning, be sure to see that the garage door is open to let in plenty of fresh air.

When operating the car, see that a side window is open, so that the spread of any carbon monoxide fumes will be counteracted.

A M.A. officials also stress the need of careful driving, especially on pavements or roads that have frozen surfaces, likely to cause sudden skidding. Careful driving will serve to save much personal injury and property damage.

Household Hints

For this month's prize recipe we are choosing 'Baked Orange Marie', a dessert that has been popular with thousands for many years, but may be new to you.

Baked Orange Marie

With a sharp knife cut off tops and remove the meat from 4 oranges leaving shells clean. Combine the orange meat with:

- 8 dates, stoned and shredded
- 4 teaspoons chopped walnuts
- 4 teaspoons seeded raisins
- 4 teaspoons grated coconut

Sweeten to taste. Fill orange shells. Bake in a dish with 1-2 inch water in bottom, in a slow oven for 45 minutes. Take out of oven and top oranges with a meringue made from:

- 1 egg white, stiffly beaten with 2 tablespoons sugar

Sprinkle meringue with coconut and return oranges to oven to brown. Serve hot or cold. A marshmallow may be used to top each orange in place of meringue.

If flannels are yellow with age or incorrect washing, dissolve one and one-half pounds of soap in your washer and add two-thirds of an ounce of spirits of ammonia. Run the washer a short time and then rinse the articles thoroughly in water.

A CHALLENGE TO CANADIANS

EMERGENCY CALL!

From the shores of our Motherland comes an appeal for help which no true Canadian can fail to heed. While we live in comfort, death drops on that embattled island. The need for Red Cross assistance is urgent. Our sons and brothers are over there. On land, at sea, in the air, they face death daily. We must be prepared to help them when they are sick or wounded.

Red Cross help is needed on behalf of soldier and civilian alike. Hospitals and hospital equipment, surgical supplies and dressings, ambulances and X-Ray equipment will be needed. Overnight the need may become so urgent that lives may be sacrificed if help cannot be sent at once.

Never before has there been so great a need for Red Cross assistance. This challenge to humanity must be answered. Give to the Red Cross. Give to the utmost NOW!

"EMERGENCY CALL FOR $5,000,000."

Canada's Year Book Just Published

The publication of the 1940 edition of the Canada Year Book, published by authorization of the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1940 Canada Year Book extends to over 1,200 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of Canada is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress which the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871, sixty-eight years ago.

Persons requiring the Year Book may obtain it from the King's Printer, Ottawa, as long as the supply lasts, at the price of $1.50, which covers merely the cost of paper, printing, and binding. By a special concession, a limited number of paper-bound copies have been set aside for ministers of religion, bona fide students and school teachers, who may obtain copies at the nominal price of 50 cents each.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

It is seldom that the West has had such a fine open fall giving the opportunity, which no doubt many farmers are seizing, of doing some fall work on those fields which need cultivating.

Since harvest many weed plants have attained a fair growth, but these young plants are still weak, and so a light discing or cultivation would destroy vast quantities of them.

Then, too, the same discing or cultivation would start many weed seeds to germinate which up to now have been lying dormant. The young plants, from seeds which only now start to germinate will be tender, the cold and ice of the winter, therefore, will destroy many of them. All in all, then, farmers who can do a little work on their land before freeze-up have the opportunity of destroying uncountable multitudes of the farmers' main enemy, the chief robber of income—weeds.

Two years ago the "Crop Testing Plan", it will be remembered, made a test with 450 plots over the prairies to see how many bushels per acre weeds stole from the wheat crop. Half the plots were weeded and half were not weeded.

The plots that were not weeded averaged 18 percent less yield than the plots which were weeded. 18 percent is a serious loss of income to the farmer.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Southern hemisphere wheat prospects are below average — The Balkan countries are facing a possible critical food shortage as a result of crop failures — Production of winter wheat in Sweden is estimated at fifteen million bushels under last year.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Berlin reports that Germany's bread grain harvest would be only 25 percent under peacetime average — Owing to a shortage of wheat in Italy cornmeal will probably be mixed with wheat flour. A large supply of cornmeal is available — Farmers in most sections of Western Europe are planning to increase the acreage to winter grains.

Red Cross Society

Worldwide organization, which knows no boundaries in the performance of the tasks for which it was formed 75 years ago, is reflected in the recent assumption by the Canadian Red Cross of the duty of supplying food parcels to thousands of British soldiers who are prisoners-of-war in Germany. As an example of the work the Red Cross is asked to perform, and which no other agency is able or empowered to do, care of prisoners is graphic

Without such an organization, shipments of food and clothing would be wasteful, if not impossible. No record of their eventual destination could be kept. The hostility of warring nations would prevent their delivery; no knowledge of the prisoners' condition could be obtained by their relatives. And, most important of all, treatment and employment of prisoners could be uncontrolled and inhuman if it were not for the conventions under which neutral Red Cross observers have authority to visit camps and question prisoners.

Prior to the days of the Red Cross prisoners were the most pitiful of war victims. They were subjected to attacks by the enemies among whom they lived; they were fed only when their captors willed.

Group 2—of the Ladies Aid are sponsoring this entertainment and would appreciate your patronage.

They suffered from exposure and hunger, and when war ended they were turned free to find their way home as best they could, through a nation still bitter from the effects of war. It was to remedy such conditions, after previous wars, that certain conventions (the last of them in 1929) were formed, to which 68 nations subscribed themselves.

Regular shipments of woollens, medical supplies and other materials are sent to Canada's soldiers who are on guard at one of the outposts of the Empire, the strategically located island of Iceland. To relieve the burden on workers in Britain, where the air attacks have created tremendous needs, the Canadian Red Cross is assigned the task of supplying Iceland's needs. To keep up this work, and the countless other duties placed on the Red Cross, money is needed. When the appeal is made to you, give and give more than you can spare.
